I saw the video embedded above linked on this article on Bruce Schneier's website. I don't speak German, but from what I gather, the video shows a guy defeating a whole body scanner? Sure, it shows his mobile phone, a wire he was wearing, as well as a knife....but what about the bomb making "stuff" he was wearing? it didn't catch that at all.

For more articles I've written about this in the past, you can check them out. No, this isn't just a knee-jerk reaction on my part. Everyone needs to take a giant step back and actually think about stuff.
